CONTENTS

Editorial by Mel Dixon .............................................................. ii
Political leaders talk about reading ........................................ 2
In praise of reading: A vignette of teenagers’ reading lives by Associate Professor Jacqueline Manual ............................... 4
Creative reading by Dr Felicity Plunkett ................................ 11
Miles Franklin Literary Award .................................................. 15
Teaching reading through a sense of place and writing by Felicity Castagna ........................................ 19
Book groups @ Hornsby Girls High School by Wendy Hardy ........................................................ 23
National Year of Reading at Hornsby GHS by Wendy Hardy .......................................................... 25
Reading life writing by Susan Green ........................................ 26
Reading the visual: Using Kress and Van Leeuwen for a framework by Christine Gietz ......................... 28
Reading and the book reviewer by Steven Romei .................... 35
Reading and the literary award judge by Robert Dixon ............... 36
Try this: A book talk ............................................................... 36
Teaching reading in the primary school: An overview by Catherine Thomson .................................. 37
The way we read now (and the way we read then) by Derek Peat ...................................................... 40
The Nita B Kibble Literary Award ............................................... 43
Social reading: Fad or future? by Darcy Moore ....................... 46
Starting small: A lesson in reading poetry by Jane Sloan .............. 49
Try this: Writing topics about reading for senior classes .............. 51
Websites on reading pedagogies and strategies reviewed by Stefanie Lia ........................................ 52
Reading objects: Using museum objects to build contexts for literature and language studies by Angela Casey ................................................................. 55
Try this: Ways of using the NMA objects ................................... 57
Try this: Reflecting on reading practices using The First Tuesday Book Club ........................................ 58
Why does reading matter? What does it tell us about ourselves and the world?
by Andrew Wright ................................................................. 59
Book Reviews by Mel Dixon, Margaret Hallahan, and Gersha Shteyman ........................................ 62
ETA Association & Working Committees 2012 ................................ 69
ETA Branches ........................................................................ 70
Contributions ........................................................................ 70

mETAp hor, Issue 3, 2012

Editor: Mel Dixon
Reviews editor: Gersha Shteyman
Design and layout: Jill Sillar, PTC NSW

None of the opinions expressed in mETAp hor reflects the views of the English Teachers’ Association of New South Wales. ETA aims to publish a diverse range of opinions on issues of concern to English teachers.

Cover: Reading through the Ages, a photo montage by J. Sillar.
Original images sourced from Wikimedia Commons.