CONTENTS

Editorial 2
Beryl Exley, Garry Collins, Kay Bishop & Linda-Dianne Willis

Talking about poetry – using the model of language in Systemic Functional Linguistics to talk about poetic texts 7
Rosemary Huisman

Enhancing understandings of the literary element of character using elements from Systemic Functional Linguistics 20
Angela Thomas

Using a model of verbal art to analyse the visual: Analysing multimodal texts in secondary English 32
Louise Ravelli

The semiotic construction of values in the videogame Watch Dogs 41
Nathan Lowien

Engaging children in the pleasures of literature and verbal art 52
David Rose

Developing a differentiated model for the teaching of creative writing to high performing students 63
Thu Thi Bich Ngo

Language Variation and Change in the Australian Curriculum: English: Integrating sub-strands through a pedagogy of metalogue 74
Linda-Dianne Willis and Beryl Exley

Building a metalanguage for interpreting multimodal literature: Insights from systemic functional semiotics in two case study classrooms 85
Mary Macken-Horarik

Playing with Grammar: A pedagogical heuristic for orientating to the language content of the Australian Curriculum: English 100
Beryl Exley, Lisa Kervin and Jessica Mantei

Reading & Viewing 112
Deb McPherson